Health Care

Todd has a dynamic practice protecting the interests of a wide variety of health care and life science clients in business, transactional, licensing, contracting and financing matters. His representations span a range of entities, including clinical research organizations, hospitals, continuing-care retirement communities, nursing homes, assisted-living facilities, low and moderate income and senior housing, physicians and a statewide trade association of nonprofit long-term care providers.

As strategic advisor in health care financing, Todd understands the needs and concerns of parties on all sides of a transaction and represents both borrowers and lenders.
