White Collar Defense and Investigations

David assists clients with white collar criminal defense and complex civil litigation. His practice also includes representing individuals and businesses in high stakes enforcement matters across all levels of government and counseling clients through investigations.

David has represented clients in federal habeas proceedings and in state criminal prosecutions stemming from complex financial investigations. His experience also includes matters involving parallel civil and criminal proceedings. In addition, he has advised and defended corporate clients in investigations and enforcement actions brought by state attorneys general alleging deceptive business practices and consumer fraud, as well as in securities and commercial litigation involving claims of corporate misconduct.

Prior to joining the firm, David served as a law clerk to the Hon. Lee A. Solomon of the Supreme Court of New Jersey. Drawing on that experience, he brings a practical, litigation focused perspective to every stage of a matter, from investigations and motion practice through trial and appellate proceedings.
