Practice

Wealth Planning, Trusts and Estates

Darshan provides nuanced guidance to individuals, families and fiduciaries on complex wealth planning, estate, gift and income tax strategies. With a depth of knowledge in tax law, he helps clients design, implement and administer estate plans that combine their wealth transfer, business succession and charitable giving goals with tax-efficient approaches. His experience includes assisting with the preparation of wills and trusts; the formation and governance of nonprofit organizations and private foundations; probate, trust and estate administration; guidance for fiduciaries; and preparing gift, estate and inheritance tax returns. Prior to joining Stevens & Lee, Darshan practiced at prominent national and regional firms and within the trust department of a major financial institution.
